People's Action for Clean Energy (PACE) invites you to a hands-on workshop to accelerate Connecticut's transition to 100% clean, renewable energy. The event features a keynote address from Mark Z. Jacobson, Director of the Atmosphere and Energy Program at Stanford University. Mark's career has focused on better understanding air pollution and global warming problems and developing large-scale clean, renewable energy solutions to them. After his address (and an interactive lunch), the focus turns to Connecticut's transition to 100% with a panel of local experts to discuss the state's progress to date, potential of offshore wind, grid modernization and legislative perspective.

Right now, everything in our lives could be powered by 100% clean, renewable energy
